College Night at SFCC

Santa Fe, NM, Oct. 1, 2009 — Representatives from more than 80 colleges and universities from around the country will be at Santa Fe Community College for College Night, held 6 to 8 p.m. on Tuesday, Oct. 13, in the college's William C. Witter Fitness Education Center on the SFCC campus, 6401 Richards Ave.

The annual event gives students in the Santa Fe area an opportunity to explore diverse academic options in higher education. Representatives, including those from New Mexico colleges and universities, two-year community colleges, Ivy League universities and independent liberal arts colleges, will answer questions about programs, financial aid and student life.

“Students get an opportunity to sit down and talk face-to-face with people from a variety of institutions,” said Rebecca Estrada, the college's director of community outreach and dual credit. “We invite students and parents to come and explore all types of post-secondary institutions and learn more about opportunities both in their own home town and beyond.”

College Night will also offer free financial aid information sessions highlighting the New Mexico Lottery Success Scholarship. Space for the financial aid sessions is limited and will be filled on a first-come, first-served basis.
