Student Expo Showcases SFCC Students, March 10, 11

Santa Fe, NM— The eleventh Student Expo, a bi-annual open-mike, open-stage event that offers up performances and presentations of the talent, work, and interests of Santa Fe Community College students will take place from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. on March 10 and 11 in the Jemez Rooms at SFCC, 6401 Richards Ave. The event features entertainment in areas like music, dance, performance poetry and literature. The expo is also well known for the diverse, and often eclectic, talents and interests of its participating students. “We really look forward to this event and I’m always amazed at the talent of my classmates,” said SFCC student Liberato Salaz, one of this year’s volunteer expo emcees. “This event gives us a chance to show it all off.” The event is free and open to the public.
