SFCC Winter Choral Concert Showcases Local Talent

Santa Fe, NM, Nov. 8, 2010 – Enjoy the seasonal sounds of student choristers at Santa Fe Community College's Winter Choral Concert during one of two performances, 5 p.m. on Friday, Dec. 3 and 2 p.m. on Saturday, Dec. 4. Both shows are free, open to the public and take place in the Jemez Rooms on the SFCC campus, 6401 Richards Ave.

The program features performances by current chorus and chamber students singing traditional carols, popular holiday songs and classical vocal arrangements. Singers will be accompanied by pianists Virginia Westray and Julie Herndon, Mary Ann Martinez on flute and Peggy Eddy on cello. The performance is directed by music educator and SFCC instructor Dr. Priscilla Zimmermann. The performances are the culmination of a semester's worth of class work and rehearsals. The choral program is part of SFCC's School of Arts and Design.

“The SFCC choral program provides an educational experience to students by offering them a chance to study and perform vocal music from various styles and historical periods,” said Zimmermann. “We invite anyone who is eager to sing music of diverse styles, willing to commit to regular rehearsal attendance, and inspired to improve the quality of the group and their own singing, to join chorus for the 2011 spring semester.”

The concert is free and open to the public. For more information, call (505) 428-1731.
