SFCC Offers Lockdown Workshop with Nationally Recognized Crisis-Management Expert

On March 9, Jesus Villahermosa, founder of Crisis Reality Training, presents an educator's training seminar for learning how to develop and implement a realistic and comprehensive lockdown plan. The one-day workshop takes place 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. inside Santa Fe Community College's Jemez Rooms, 6401 Richards Ave, Santa Fe.

According to Villahermosa, the workshop is an intensive, hands-on session designed to help participants better understand how they will respond in a crisis and/or lockdown situation.

The workshop is directed toward higher education and K-12 school administrators, crisis response team members, safety committee members, law enforcement responders, fire department personnel, tactical team members such as S.W.A.T. and E.R.T.

Registration is $149 per person.

Register through the Crisis Reality Training Web site or on-site at SFCC from 7:15 to 8 a.m., on March 9. For more information, call (253) 381-0505, (505) 428-1465, or email Jesus@CrisisRealityTraining.com.
